

Sacred Heart Library January - 2012

Hours: Wednesday Evenings from 6:00 to 8:00
(When Faith Formation Classes are in session.)
Sunday Mornings between Masses
Other times - look for the sign in the window

---

HAPPY NEW YEAR !!

With the National Right to Life March fast approaching, we thought we would list a number of materials that could be used to “bone up” on the facts about abortion.

Here are some internet addresses for abortion related articles and materials:

www.crusadeforlife.org

They have published a small brochure to answer 5 questions, including: ‘What is abortion?’ ‘What does science tell us about unborn life?’ And ‘What can Christians do to stop abortion?’

www.afajournal.org

Look for the Jan. 2012 issue of the afaJournal. This is a Christian publication.

www.all.org

The website of American Life League.

If you don’t have internet, you can still look at these materials by visiting our library where we have some back issues.

There are several books, CD’s and DVD’s in the library that provide insight into the problems with the “Culture of Death”

Books:

Margaret Sanger’s Eugenic Legacy
by Angela Franks

Ending Abortion - Not Jus Fighting It
by Fr. Frank Pavone

Sex, Lies, and the Media by Eva Marie and Jessica Everson

So Sexy So Soon by Diane E. Levin &
Jean Kilbourne

DVD's

Beginning & End of Life Issues

by Fr. Tad Pacholczyk

Building a Culture of Life

(Population 1 & 2)

by Steve Mosher

Defend Life with Fr. Pavone & others

Standing for Life in the Medical Field

with Dr. Damon Cudihy

CD's

Janet Morana et alle

Abortion issues

Steven Mosher

Population issues

Dr. Damon Cudihy

Standing for Life in the Medical field

Raymond Arroyo

Interview with Jeni Stepanek, et alle

Corapi; Fr. John, SOLT

Conscience, Freedom, & Truth

And if you are younger than 37, congratulations! You are a survivor of the holocaust referred to as "a woman's right to choose" or "a health issue".

A few years ago, Rush Limbaugh declared that abortion would be this country's next 'civil war'. And he was right. We are at war. The difference with this war is that the casualties are not the one's doing the fighting. We must fight this war on their behalf. But, for their sake, this is one war we cannot afford to lose.

I leave you with the story of a little boy sitting in his classroom, when the teacher asked her students what they thought of the "woman's right to choose". The teacher and all of the students were all highly vocal in favor of "choice". All of her students, except the little boy.

When asked pointedly by the teacher about his view, the young man said quietly that he was very grateful to his "birth mother" for giving him to the parents who happily adopted him. By the time the class was over, even the teacher had changed her mind.

Think about it.

Note: Some of these are not specifically aimed at abortion directly. But they do give "food for thought".